She has LAW ENFORCEMENT FIGHTS TRAINING &+ARMED FORCES BATTLE TRAINING and is an ACCOMPLISHED-ACHIEVED FOOTBALL PROFESSUONALIESS, asupervillainess .

For your character GODDESS \NOELSELENA/GIANTESS, who is depicted as a supervillainess with law enforcement and armed forces battle training as well as being an accomplished professional football player, here are expanded duel details and insights into her mode of transportation:

Duel Details

- Combat Training: She possesses advanced skills in both law enforcement tactics and military combat, making her adept at hand-to-hand fighting, weapons handling, and strategic battlefield maneuvers.
- Football Professionalism: As an elite football player, she combines agility, strength, and tactical awareness, likely using these athletic abilities in combat scenarios.
- Supervillainess Persona: Her villainous role suggests she may use unconventional, ruthless, or creative tactics in duels, leveraging her physical prowess and specialized training for overwhelming force or psychological intimidation.

Mode of Transportation

Given her giantess aspect and mythological inspiration (notably from Selene, the Greek moon goddess), her mode of transportation would likely be:

- Chariot or Steed: In classical mythology, Selene is often depicted riding a chariot drawn by two horses, sometimes winged, or riding sidesaddle on a horse, mule, or even a bull<sup>[1][2]</sup>. This iconic imagery could translate into your character traveling in a massive, moonlit chariot or atop a colossal steed that matches her giantess stature.
- Modern Adaptation: Given her professional football and law enforcement background, she could also utilize a customized armored vehicle—something akin to a high-tech, oversized SWAT van or military transport, scaled up for her size and equipped with advanced technology and weaponry.
- Symbolic Elements: Her vehicle might feature lunar motifs (crescent shapes, glowing elements) and could serve as both transport and a mobile command center, reflecting her dual identity as goddess and tactician.

| Mythological Inspiration | Modern Adaptation        | Unique Features                      |
|--------------------------|--------------------------|--------------------------------------|
| Moon chariot or steed    | Armored tactical vehicle | Lunar motifs, oversized for giantess |
| Drawn by horses/bulls    | High-tech enhancements   | Combat-ready, mobile command center  |

This blend of mythological grandeur and contemporary tactical utility fits her background and supervillainess flair, making her both formidable in battle and iconic in appearance<sup>[1][2]</sup>.

If you want to further customize her vehicle, consider merging classical and modern elements: a moon-chariot armored personnel carrier with glowing wheels, reinforced armor, and football-themed insignias.
